Drug value assessment/HTA is an important payer's tool in many European countries. This meeting focuses on the assessment systems in the UK, France and Germany and addresses the international projects heading towards a more harmonised value assessment in Europe.

After having attended this meeting you will be aware of the current status and the challenges for the national systems in the UK, France and Germany, and have a sound perspective on what you can expect from the European HTA cooperations.

Participants

This meeting addresses the needs of managing directors and co-workers in the pharmaceutical industry who are involved in market access and healthcare management.
